VTÍPILOVÁ, S.: Young adult Christians and their relationship to the church. Prague 2008

Diploma work, Charles University in Prague, Catholic Theological Faculty. Pastoral Theology Department.

Supervisor Doc. Michal Kaplánek, Th.D.

Keywords: pastor leadership, young adulthood, qualitative research, young people's relationship to the church, post modernity

Presented work focuses on young adult Christians and their relationship to the church. The theoretical part describes the world in which the young people live, it characterizes a group of young adults and describes their problems. The practical part gives attention to young people's expectation towards the church. The conclusions were reached using the method of qualitative sociological research, namely with the help of semi-standardized dialogues with 14 young people. The practical part contains the description of research preparative work, data processing and the subsequent interpretation. In the conclusion pastoral theological reflexion is provided.
